Exchange difference

i Contingent liability:

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the company or a present obligation that is not recognized because it is not probable that an outflow of recourses will be required to settle the obligation. A contingent liability also arises in extremely rare cases where there is a liability that cannot be recognized because it cannot be measured reliably. The company does not recognize a contingent liability but disclose its existence in the financial statements.

I. Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognized to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the company and the revenue can be reliably measured. The following specific recognition criteria must also be met before revenue is recognized.

Sales of goods

Revenue from sales of goods is recognized when all the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods have been passed to the buyer, usually on delivery of the goods. Sales include excise duty, sales tax and value added tax.. Excise duty deducted from revenue (gross) is the amount that is included in the revenue (gross) and not the entire liability arising during the year.

Interest

Interest income is recognized on a time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and the applicable interest rate. Interest income is included under the head "other income" in the statement of profit and loss.

Dividend Income

m. Earnings Per Share

Basic earning per share are calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period are adjusted —for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

n. Provisions

A provision is recognized when the company has a present obligation as a result of past event, It is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. Provisions are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the reporting date. These estimates are reviewed of each reporting date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate.

Where the company expects some or all of a provision to be reimbursed, for example under and insurance contract, the reimbursement is recognized as separate asset but only when the reimbursement is virtually certain. The expenses relating to any provision is presented in the statement of profit and loss net of any reimbursement.

The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the report date. Current income tax relating to items recognized directly in equity is recognized in equity and not in the statement of profit and loss.

Deferred income taxes reflect the impact of timing differences between taxable income and accounting income originating during the current year and reversal of timing differences for the earlier years. Deferred tax is measured using the tax rates and the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. Deferred income tax relating to items recognized directly in equity is recognize in equity and not in the Statement of profit and loss.

The deferred tax asset and deferred tax liability is calculated by applying tax rate and tax rules that have enacted or substantially enacted by the Balance Sheet date. Deferred tax assets arising mainly on account of brought forward business losses and unabsorbed depreciation allowance under tax laws, are recognized only if there is a virtual certainty of its realization. Deferred tax assets on account of other timing differences are recognized only to the extent there is a reasonable certainty of its realization. At each balance sheet date, the carrying amount of deferred tax assets are reviewed to re-assure realization.
